“ This has been a photo of my brother and I that I've had on my computer desktop since the day it was taken. Over the years it always made me laugh. Bottle rockets (or maybe sparklers) on his ears with me pretending that I was lighting them. Classic Mike.

BW

So many rich memories, from Cub Scouts through summer camps; hiding out in the boxelder tree; classmates from age 9, cousins and next-door neighbors from age 14; hiding out in the boxelder tree; cross-country, track, band, German band, the early instance of the pep band, the "Dixieland Jamboree" number in particular, and he even tried to teach me how to solder on ill-fated day.

Fortunately, Mike, you were never particularly hampered by convention, with a laid-back creativity that so many of us drew from and shared in.

Sue, is there a favored charity to which I might contribute?
